German Defenders Thrown Back Upon Defenses of Rome

United States and British Forces Find Italy's Third Greatest City Empty of Enemies After Engaging In Orgy of Destruction

NO TIME TO BE LOST MAKING HARBOR USABLE

By NOLAND NORGAAARD

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Oct. 1—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American Fifth Army today captured Naples, Italy's third greatest city, and threw the German defenders back upon the defenses of Rome, which is 120 airline miles to the north.

The American and British forces which clattered into Naples found the city of 925,000 empty of Germans, who for a week had engaged in an orgy of destruction and terrorism designed to burn and tear down every installation that would be of benefit to Allied forces and to hamper Italian cooperation with the liberating armies.

The special Allied headquarters communique, announcing the fall of Naples, did not give the time at which Allied troops seized the greatest city and port they have won on the continent of Europe.

(The United Nations radio at Algiers, in a broadcast recorded by OWI, said naval experts at Allied headquarters estimated the harbor of Naples "in its most important respects can be made serviceable in eight days from now.")

The powerful British and American armored columns which pushed into Naples reached their objective by taking Torre Annunziata, steel town on the shelf of land between the Bay of Vesuvius, late Wednesday.

Torre Annunziata is nine miles south of Naples.

They then had to fight a cautious battle with German rearguards manning anti-tank guns in orchards and other places of concealment, root out hundreds of mines and overcome numerous obstacles and demolitions.

While these forces battle toward the great pall of smoke that had hung over Naples for days, other American and British forces advanced to the east of the city and along the Adriatic.

American spearhead for 10 miles and captured Avellino, 30 miles east of Naples, in an encircling maneuver which posed a threat to the German retreat to the Volturno.

Avellino, a city of 16,000, is a focal point of six roads and on the trunk highway between Naples and Foggia, and is only 17 miles south of Benevento, another important communications center on the Volturno.

Aussies Half Mile From the Jap Harbor of Finschhafen

By WILLIAM F. BONI

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 1—(P)—New Guinea frontline reports today placed one spearhead of Australians a half mile from the well-protected harbor of Finschhafen.

The Japanese, ejected bloodily from all high ground before the one-time German settlement, now oppose the encircling assault troops from outskirt positions separated by only a few yards from those of the Australians.

Artillery near the coast pounded the shrinking core of enemy resistance. Inland, several miles above Finschhafen, another Aussie force has been engaging Japanese about two miles by jungle track east of Sattelberg. These Australians repelled three bitter counterattacks Monday night and early Tuesday.

Up the Markham Valley, 74 miles northwest of Lae, another ground menace to Japanese holdings in New Guinea slowly developed. Australians seized the valley settlement of Wankon, 60-odd jungle and mountain miles inland and south of their objective, Madang, a coastal base.

In the Solomons, a navy spokesman said 200 American planes participated Monday and Tuesday in raids on the Japanese bases of Kahili on Mougainville Island and Vila on Kolombangara.

The couple will proceed to New Orleans, from where, federal authorities permitting, they will sail the Gulf of Mexico to Florida.

Upon their arrival at Sarasota, their son, Sgt. Albert Schenholm, Jr., will welcome them for the scheduled turkey dinner.

Schenholm worked for eight months and spent $6,000 in building the boat. The craft was transported on a big trailer truck from Bradford to Kittanning where it was launched.

ABOARD DIMOUT TO GET STARTED EARLIER

New York, Oct. 1—(P)—Beginning tonight, and effective through Oct. 30, the dim-out period in New York, New Jersey and Delaware will begin a half hour after dark instead of an hour, as has been the case since May 1, throughout the year the dim-out is in force until a half hour before sunrise.

Girl Technician Is Abducted By Inmate of Farview When He Makes Escape In Car

PHONES SHE IS SAFE

Honesdale, Oct. 1—(P)—A girl technician whom police said was abducted yesterday from the Farview, Pa., State Hospital for the Criminally Insane by an escaping inmate, telephoned her father from Camden, N. J., today and said "I am all right, but he won't let me go," the father, Philip Murray, reported.

"Please come and get me," Murray quoted her as saying.

Then the connection was broken, Murray said.

At Camden, detectives immediately began a search of the neighborhood from which telephone operators said the call was made.

The girl is Miss Clara May Murray, 26, of Honesdale. Thomas Rutherford, superintendent of the hospital, identified the inmate as Eugene Caster, 22, of Harrisburg, Pa.

Murray quoted his daughter as saying that Caster "is not vicious or dangerous. He hasn't hurt me."

Rutherford earlier had said that Caster "is not an ugly type."

Caster escaped in an automobile, forcing Miss Murray to accompany him, Rutherford said, after frightening Peter Ryan, 41, an attendant, with "something black in his hand" and locking him in a hospital room.

Then, Rutherford said, Caster apparently went into the laboratory where Miss Murray was working and made her accompany him to her automobile, which was parked on the grounds.

Cash Subsidies To Dairymen Are Ordered

Washington, Oct. 1—(P)—Cash subsidies to 3,000,000 dairymen and restrictions on retail consumption of dairy products in 13 heavily populated areas were ordered today by the government in an effort to hold down prices and avoid rationing.

Producer spokesmen declared however their belief that the subsidy program, now in effect, would fail materially to boost dwindling supplies of milk and dairy products.

The subsidy plan contemplates the payment of federal benefits ranging from 25 to 50 cents per heavily populated area were ordered today by the government in an effort to hold down prices and avoid rationing.

Warren County Is Well Up Among Leaders in Area

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1—(P)—Beaver county took the lead in proportionate war bond sales in the 19-county Fort Pitt area today by pushing 19 per cent beyond its quota, officials of the Third War Loan drive announced.

The nine other counties were also 100 per cent, or better.

The leading counties were listed as follows:

Beaver, with sales of 119 per cent, Allegheny, with 116 per cent, Warren and Mercer, 111 each, Butler and Lawrence, 107 each, Venango 106, Crawford 102, Fayette 101 and Forest 100.

Tabulations today gave the area total sales of $319,416,000—$13,607,100 in excess of the quota.

Allegheny county has subscribed $228,994,000. Its quota was $202,807,500.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1—(P)—Pennsylvania reached 91 per cent of its Third War Loan goal of $1,071,000,000 today with $976,610,000 officially reported.

Philadelphia went over the top yesterday, passing its $490,045,000 quota by an estimated $2,000,000.

Campaign to Rally Italian People Against Fascist Republic Mapped

NEGOTIATIONS ARE ON

BY WILLIAM FRYE

Washington, Oct. 1—(P)—The Allies probably will recognize the government of Marshal Badoglio and King Victor Emmanuel, and launch a campaign to rally the Italian people against the Nazi-fostered Fascist republic of Mussolini.

This was the belief expressed today by an official, in constant and close touch with the Italian situation, who added that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower already is negotiating with the Badoglio government as a co-belligerent—with the approval of the American, British and Russian governments.

The statements were made in reply to questions concerning a recent dispatch from the provisional Italian capital that American and British soldiers were not enthusiastic toward the apparent determination of the Badoglio government to "force itself upon the United Nations as an ally."

This dispatch also disclosed that officers of AMG, arriving in (Turn to Page Eleven)

Gangland's Double Cross Is Revived

Chicago, Oct. 1—(P)—Gangland's double cross—not new procedure in Chicago's gang history—cost the lives of two Chicago hoodlums within the last five months, State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney disclosed today.

He said the murders of Danny Stanton and Martin (Sonny Boy) Quirk, stemming from the revival of big-scale gambling operations on the city's south side, had been solved by the confession of an ex-convict, a member of the gang once headed by the slain mobsters.

Courtney identified the ex-convict as James Egan, 30. The state's attorney said a second man under arrest, Anthony De Loro, also an ex-convict, had agreed Egan's confession was true, but declined to make a confession himself.

Harriman Named For Moscow Post

Washington, Oct. 1—(P)—W. Averell Harriman was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be ambassador to Russia.

Harriman was named to succeed Admiral William H. Standley, who returned recently to make a report on the Soviet government's attitude toward projected Anglo-American-Russian war talks.

Before leaving Moscow, the 71-year-old Standley made it known he did not want to return to his diplomatic post.

Harriman, who will be 52 next month, has been lease-lend administrator in London since 1941.

SERVICE CALLS TO DADS ARE BEING ISSUED

Congressional Debate Over Issue Becomes Purely Academic as Former E-A's Are Called

SUBSTITUTE PROPOSED

Washington, Oct. 1—(P)—Congressional debate over drafting fathers became a purely academic issue today as Selective Service calls began going out to former E-A's.

Administration leaders considered accepting as a substitute for the Wheeler "don't draft fathers" bill which still was being argued in the senate, a proposal by Senator Bailey (D-NC) and Clark (D-Mo) to strip the federal payrolls of any military useful non-fathers.

While refusing to commit himself, Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) expressed the view this move wouldn't give the army more than 15,000 men.

True, that would mean a division, he conceded, but it might not necessarily provide "a good division," and would not make up for the 446,000 fathers that selective service says are needed to fill draft quotas up to the end of the year.

Already claiming sufficient votes to reject the bill by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) to postpone the drafting of fathers until Jan. 1, the administration swung its guns against a proposal by a bi-partisan group led by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Under its deferments would be prohibited for non-fathers under 30 years old for occupational reasons, induction quotas would be filled on a nationwide instead of local basis, and the draft would proceed progressively by six categories, starting with single men who have dependents other than wives and children.

Fathers under 25 would be taken before those from 25 (Turn to Page Eleven)

Rains Bring State Relief From Drought

By the Associated Press

The long drought was broken in many parts of Pennsylvania today by showers whipping in on the heels of a gale from the Atlantic coast.

The rain came too late to be of much benefit to crops, but brought relief to many communities whose water supplies had dwindled to the danger point.

Showers were predicted for the entire state today, with a forecast of clear and cooler weather by nightfall.

Considerable damage was caused by winds in Philadelphia last night. A ship, blown off its course in the Delaware river, crushed and sank a tugboat, but all of its nine crew members were rescued. Electric wires and trees were felled by the gale in the city. An inch of rain fell up to midnight.

The rain came just in time to forestall an all-time record for dry September in Harrisburg. By midnight, .55 of an inch had fallen, whereas the capital had only .41 of an inch in all the rest of the month. The all-time low for September there was .68 of an inch.

Reading had a heavy rainfall and strong winds, but in Scranton the precipitation was light and the winds moderate.

Center of Gorizia Believed Destroyed

London, Oct. 1—(P)—A German war correspondent's dispatch relayed through Spain said today that the northeastern Italian communications center of Gorizia had been virtually destroyed by artillery fire in a prolonged siege by Yugoslav partisans.

This account said that bands of Slovene and Croat irregulars, supported by Italians, attacked the city from the north and south Sept. 22, but that the timely arrival of reinforcements enabled the German garrison to withstand the assault after days of heavy fighting.

Other reports reaching Madrid said the entire area between Gorizia across the Yugoslav border to Ljubljana was controlled by the partisans who have cut the railway between the two cities.

SMALL GAINS SHOWN IN BUSINESS INDEX

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1—(P)—Small gains which together were slightly more favorable than the average seasonal change were reflected in the index of business activity for the University of Pittsburgh Business Research Bureau announced.

Sales of department stores in the week ending Sept. 25 were nine per cent above those of the corresponding week of 1942.

More Gas for A-Card Holders In East Is Announced With Reduction In Both B and C

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, Oct. 1—(P)—A broad revision of rationing described as necessary to spread the gasoline supply more equitably today gave A-card motorists in the east more fuel by cutting down the amounts allowed drivers with the supplemental B and C cards.

The shakeup in ration card values effective last midnight applies everywhere east of the Rocky Mountains.

The Office of Price Administration (OPA) increased the ration of east coast A-card holders from 1½ to 2 gallons weekly. B and C coupons were reduced to 2 gallons everywhere except in the Rockies and on the Pacific coast.

OPA said the B and C reductions would accomplish "virtual equalization of rations through an area where supplies are short," and simultaneously align gasoline consumption with amounts available.

Chairman Lea (D-Calif.) of the house interstate committee, indicated that the new setup would have no effect on a proposed investigation of gasoline rationing and distribution.

The B and C value changes, which OPA said were made to provide the increase for east coast A-card holders, mean that in the midwest, southwest and southeast supplementary rations are cut from 3 to 2 gallons. In the northeastern states the reduction is from 2½ to 2 gallons.

OPA pledged, however, that supplementary rations would be granted in cases of grave hardship. The additional A-card allotment was put into immediate effect in 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia by shortening the validity period of the A-6 coupons currently in use. These will expire Nov. 8 instead of Nov. 21. The A-7 coupons have been removed from new books now being distributed in the area.

A-8 coupons will become valid Nov. 9 and will be good for three gallons each through Feb. 8.

OPA stipulated that in the midwest and southwest one gallon of the three allowed A-card holders must be used for occupational driving before the motorist is eligible for supplementary rations. East coast drivers were not bound by this regulation.

Free Rome, the Vatican and Pope Objectives of the Allies

Washington, Oct. 1—(P)—President Roosevelt said today the objective of Allied forces in Italy was to free Rome, the Vatican and the Pope, much in the manner of a crusade, while at the same time avoiding all possible destruction.

Mr. Roosevelt showed some skepticism at a press-radio conference about news reports that the Germans might make their next stand on the line of Rome, now that the Allies have entered Naples. He said he did not think even General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, knew where the next stand would be.

He said three minutes before the news conference opened he had received a flash from the general saying that Allied troops had entered Naples.

The president asserted there was one thing he could say—that naturally the advance is going to continue and that every effort is being made by the Allies to prevent damage to Rome and the Vatican. They are doing everything possible to prevent active fighting leading to destruction in Rome.

It is clear the Germans occupy Rome and that the Vatican is essentially surrounded, the president said. German troops are in the colonnade around St. Peter's Square, and while he did not wish to say that the Holy Father was in a state of siege, he pointed out that complete freedom can be had if troops are in your front yard and inspect every one coming in and going out.

The Allied march northward looks toward freeing Rome, the Vatican and the Pope, the chief (Turn to Page Eleven)

Japanese Oil Deposits in Burma Destroyed

New Delhi, Oct. 1—(P)—Japanese oil reserves at three depots in Burma were destroyed and enemy positions near Kanauk were shot up yesterday by British aircraft, a communiqué said today.

Beaefighters hit an oil refinery along the Irrawaddy in a morning raid, destroying one large tank, damaging two others and leaving three smaller tanks burning. The fires still were blazing in the afternoon when other formations swept over the vicinity to attack an oil tank at Chauk and oil barge and two steamers in the river.

Cod. Richard K. Mellon, state Selective Service director, declared "every effort is being made to (Turn to Page Eleven)

County Lags In Subscribers To Third War Loan Campaign

With Warren county over the top from a dollars and cents standpoint in the Third War Loan drive, the emphasis was placed today in getting the county up to quota in the number of subscribers.

Through Thursday, the number of subscribers had reached 6,226, leaving the county nearly an even 2,000 subscribers short of the $250 buyer goal.

The United States Treasury has extended the time of the Third War Loan to October 16 for the purchase of the Series E, F, and G Bonds. While the 2, 2½ and 3 Bonds will count in the third war loan totals only if purchased by October 2. Tomorrow is the last day that purchasers of these latter type bonds will have to get their dollars in, and add their names to the list of Warren county purchasers.

It is estimated by K. R. Barrett, Executive secretary of the Warren County War Finance Committee, that there are still upwards of three hundred unredeemed pledges in the hands of Warren county banks and post offices. These unredeemed pledges cannot be counted until those who have made them go to their banks and exchange their cash for the bonds they ordered.

The bond issuing agents in the county have made special arrangements to handle the anticipated last-minute rush of bond buyers tomorrow with the greatest speed and efficiency. With the close of the drive only hours away, it is hoped that everyone who has not yet done so, will grasp this opportunity to get their dollars into the fight.

HITLER HURLS MIGHTY FORCE INTO FIGHTING

Pick of Russian Ukrainian Armies Face Germans Across 100-Yard Water Barrier

DNIEPR LINE AT STAKE

BY ROGER GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Adolf Hitler's boast that "he stands here I stay"—on the Dnieper river line—came under tremendous fire by Russian siege armies today as one of the war's most critical battles raged in force and rain around the Ukraine capital at Kiev.

With only 100 yards of water barrier separating them from the goal, the Russians were throwing tremendous forces of artillery, infantry and aircraft into the fight to break through the heart of Germany's great "second wall" fortifications.

Kiev lies about midway along the 900-mile Dnieper which stretches from Smolensk in the north to the Black Sea in the south.

A broadcast from the secret German underground station, Atlantic, said Hitler had told his generals at the Russian front that they must immediately eliminate "the Stalingrad psychosis" and must yield "not another foot of ground" beyond the Dnieper.

"From now on the Dnieper will be the natural front to separate both armies," the fuhrer commanded.

"This front will stand. The winter positions have been read a long time and are well built and can be regarded as impossible to take."

Soviet dispatches emphasize that the Germans were powerful entrenched in Kiev's ancient fortress, high on the western cliffs of the Dnieper, and claimed no further advances in the Kiev sector.

Force air battles were reported blazing over the city while Russian siege guns bombarded the Nazi-held citadel from the east bank.

Further north, capture of heavily-fortified Gomel, the last German-occupied city on the eastern (Turn to Page Two)

New Type Nazi Torpedo Deadly And Efficient

An Eastern Canadian Port, Oct. 1—(P)—German submarines have returned to the battle of the Atlantic with a new type of torpedo—deadly and efficient—declared more than 100 survivors of sunken Allied merchant vessels who were landed here earlier this week.

They were victims of the first big Nazi U-boat attack reported in North Atlantic waters for nearly four months. Included were American, British and Norwegian seamen and a lone stowaway—an 18-year-old negro girl whom a boat wain, also a negro, had hoped to smuggle into the United States.

The survivors included about 40 negroes from an American ship. They did not know the total losses of the convoy and escorts, but they knew four ships of their convoy were sunk and at least one of a low convoy preceding theirs.

Salem Church Has Reception For Minister

A very well attended tureen supper was held last evening in Salem Evangelical church as a prelude to the welcoming reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Schieb, returned to the charge for another year of service.

Details were in charge of the Salem Ladies' Aid, with Rev. Ernest Kaebnick offering the opening prayer. The serving was followed by a program which opened with a song, "Welcome", by the beginners' department. After a short talk by Simon Huber, Mrs. Gust Ristau read a poem and a selection was sung by a trio composed of Mrs. Fred Rosentrater, Mrs. Carl Jones and Mrs. Kaebnick. Melda Olsen was accompanied by Ruth Ackert for two pleasing solos, "Bless This House" and "The Lord's Prayer". To conclude, the Sunday school superintendent, Ivan Rydholm, presented the honored guests with a gift.

Film Warning Against Black Market Coming to the Library

A short film on why housewives must not buy from black markets will be shown at the Library Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week when the "Constant Nymph" is the feature attraction, according to a letter received by George Sarvis, manager. This is in line with the policy of Warner Bros. to cooperate in every way with the war effort, not only in the selling of bonds and stamps but also in the fight against unpatriotic practices of black markets.

Warren County Defense Council has arranged for the women selling bonds and stamps to provide patrons of the theatre with pledges to be signed as they leave the Library theatre. These say: "I will pay no more than legal top prices. I buy no rationed goods without giving ration stamps," the Home Front Pledge.

New posters have been received by the price clerk, showing the difference in prices in this war and in the first World War in 1917. The poster is in the form of a graph. Price control today has kept prices far below the 1917 levels in spite of the fact that we are feeding millions more today. With the enormous demand for American food throughout the world, we must work constantly against black markets, or merchants selling above ceiling prices according to OPA bulletins.

The Price Panel assistants have just completed a check on meat prices at 14 representative stores in Warren county. This report was sent from the Erie district office to the regional office.

Change Made In Lions Club Meeting Day

Members of the local Lions Club have made a change in meeting plans for next week, gathering at the YWCA activities building at 12:15 p. m. Monday instead of Tuesday.

Purpose of the change is to accommodate the visiting itinerary of the district governor of Lions, C. L. Schmitt, of New Kensington, who will be paying his official visit to the local unit.

Accompanying him will be Carl E. Benson, of Tionesta, who is deputy district governor of the organization.

Announcement is also made by club officials that the date of Saturday, October 9, has been set for the annual "Daisy Sale," with which the club raises funds for its work among the blind.

Trained Aides Form Crops Of Volunteers

At a meeting of Nurse's Aides held Wednesday evening at the YWCA activities building, the four classes which have completed the 80-hour training course combined to form a Volunteer Nurse's Aide Corps.

Mrs. William Schellhammer, a member of the Pioneer Class, was elected president; Mrs. Howard Kauffmeyer, vice president; Mrs. Lester Blair, secretary.

The organization of this corps will provide the machinery for carrying on an educational program for the trained aides; will provide a channel of communication between the individual aide and the nurse's aide committee of the Red Cross; and it will serve as the organ through which assignments can be made and accurate records kept for every aide.

Mrs. W. F. Clinger, chairman of the Red Cross nursing committee, announced that Mrs. M. J. Connolly has been appointed chairman of the Nurse's Aide committee; Mrs. George Craft, vice chairman in charge of the class in training; and Mrs. William Lutz will have charge of records.

A social hour and refreshments followed the meeting.

INDUSTRIALISTS HEAR OF NEED OF SCRAP

At the Court House last evening a meeting was held in the small court room attended by about 45 of the industrialists about the city. The occasion was the visit to Warren of J. G. Lewis, of Cleveland, who outlined to the men the urgent need of more heavy scrap with which to keep the steel mills at top speed during the winter. Byron Knapp is the chairman of the local group and has his work well organized. Several interesting moving pictures which are being shown to restricted groups by the War Production Board were shown and much enjoyed. The work of assembling scrap in this county is going forward in a splendid manner and the men were complimented on their work.

Boys Steal 800 Gallons Of Gasoline

Three juveniles, one 13 and two 17 years of age, were arrested near East Branch in connection with the theft of approximately 800 gallons of gasoline, which they have been siphoning from a large storage tank owned by Howard Burleigh, of that place. The thefts have been committed during a three months period.

Burleigh, an oil lease operator, has a 2,000-gallon storage tank near his home, which he uses in fueling machinery. The motor fuel has been stolen in various quantities over a period of three months, it is reported, an estimate being made that the total loss would approximate 800 gallons.

Pvt. Robert Parson of the Corry sub-station of state police made the arrests in the case, the youths later being released on their own recognizance. Warren county authorities were contacted and the court has issued an order summoning the boys into court on October 13 to answer a delinquency charge.

WARTIME HEALTH WEEK

In a pitched battle against absenteeism in war plants, the druggists of this city, jointly with all the pharmacists of the country, today fire the opening gun of a nationwide health educational campaign, Wartime Health Week. Although the event will officially end on October 11, it is understood that the campaign will continue for the duration.

The first announcement of Wartime Health Week drew quick approval from leading public health officials, who were quick to recognize the importance of a health program in the hands of the druggists of the nation, trained in health matters and occupying unique positions in every community.

That the need for a health drive such as Wartime Health Week exists is apparent from many official reports drawing attention to the appalling loss of time in war plants due to preventable illness.

For example, in his annual report, the managing director of The Industrial Hygiene Foundation, said in part:

"Precious work days lost in war industries through absenteeism, in the face of manpower shortages, constitute the gravest problem of the year in the field of industrial health.

"The main causes of absenteeism are sickness, accidents and voluntary unavailability. Sickness is by far the greatest single cause, claiming an estimated eight work days per worker yearly. With more than 17 million men and women workers, war industries are losing manpower at the rate of 136 million work days per year, or an average of more than 2 1/2 million work days weekly, through sickness alone."

It is earnestly hoped that Wartime Health Week will be instrumental in helping to curtail materially absenteeism in war plants caused by preventable sickness.

Certainly, a noblesse of the 12 simple, common sense health rules for wartime which the druggists of America are distributing during the event will go far toward achieving that objective. It is suggested that you call upon your local druggist for a copy of these rules. His supply is limited.

SAVE SOAP TO SHARE IN WAR EFFORT

Soap consumption is increasing. Whether this is because Americans are cleaner in wartime than in peacetime is open to question.

The most likely answer to this is that more people are working in industry, is the opinion of Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, home economics representative in Warren County. Women and girls, as well as men, in factories, shipyards and railroad yards require more washing and bathing. Clothes of such workers become badly soiled and need quantities of soap to keep them clean.

This heavy demand on the soap supply makes it necessary for everyone to make soap reach as far as possible in order to save fat and glycerine, important for the manufacture of soap and essential war materials.

Mrs. Prendergast offers a few soap-saving suggestions:

Use soft water whenever possible.

Use water softener instead of extra soap.

Remove wrapper from cake so soap can dry and harden. Hard soap goes farther than soft moist soap. Keep the soap dish dry.

Use only enough soap to make the right suds for laundering. Too much suds prevents the water from going through the fabric.

Dishes scraped and rinsed well will require less soap in washing.

Save all scraps of soap. Dried, they may be put through the food chopper and used as chips; melted, they may be used as soap jelly.

WORLD WIDE COMMUNION

Protestant churches in Warren, in common with others throughout the world, are cooperating in the World Wide Communion next Sunday, sponsored by the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America, which has circulated the following invitations to members of the various denominations:

In these days of war when there is so much dividing men and nations, Christians must maintain an unbroken and unbreakable fellowship.

On October third, World Wide Communion Sunday, followers of Christ everywhere, in army camps and naval bases, on shipboard, in churches large and small, in the homeland and over seas, will bear witness to this fellowship. The world-wide observance of the Lord's Supper will cross frontiers of race, break through barriers of prejudice, and rise above the clash of nations.

In obedience to Him who said, "This do in remembrance of me," all who love Christ are called to gather about their Lord's table on the first Sunday in October, 1943, and recommit themselves to the unfinished task of His Eternal Kingdom.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Reports from that portion of Italy now in Allied hands are that the United Nations are face to face with the realities of rehabilitation and the picture is not pretty.

It is apparent the Nazis are going to strip the whole of Europe and occupied portions of Asia of everything that is edible or of any use whatever in their war effort.

Not only that, but in Italy they have planted mines all over the farm lands, blown up food processing and fertilizer plants, destroyed transportation, and blasted irrigation works.

HERE is no simple problem like that faced by AMG and the Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation in Tunisia and Sicily. The Nazis had comparatively little opportunity to scorch the earth there.

In Italy, there is the problem of clearing the land of mines, supplying farmers with tools and fertilizer, putting the irrigation works back in order (a job of months and years in some sections), and reconstructing means of transportation before the nation can even put in its crops. In the meantime, these people have to be fed if they are to be kept from starving.

Italy's chief native grain supply is in the Po valley, where the Nazis are sure to make a last ditch stand. Its factories are virtually useless without the million tons or so of coal they have been getting from Germany each year. They have no fuel oil.

When these problems are considered—and they will be equally great or greater in France, Greece, the Balkans, the Netherlands, Norway, Denmark and Poland—the magnitude of the job becomes apparent.

In coal alone, the United Nations are up against it. England has no more than its minimum requirements and this nation is faced with a rationing possibility—yet Fuels Administrator Harold L. Ickes has announced that so urgent is the need for coal in Italy that some already is being shipped from here.

In food, it seems now that absolute minimum requirements will be far greater and the length of time before freed nations can help feed themselves far longer than the most pessimistic predictions previously.

ALL that United Nations relief agencies are now shooting at is a minimum per capita subsistence level in freed areas of about 2,000 calories a day, one-third less than average daily consumption here. The problem is how to do it without cutting dangerously into our own requirements.

It is considered likely that the realities discovered in southern Italy will cause an overhaul of our now loosely integrated relief and rehabilitation program. As it is, not only Herbert H. Lehman's OFFRO, but more than half a dozen other agencies have their fingers in the pie, not to mention the combined Food Board and the British Supply Council. Any day now a central United Nations coordinating agency may be set up.

What It Means

WASHINGTON — The Navy's announcement that we now have the greatest fleet in world history adds the final touch to a picture of complete United Nations' sea superiority.

Aided by the surrender of the Italian fleet and the repair of part of the French fleet, the mighty navies of the U. S. and Britain far exceed in combined strength any force Japan or Germany can hope to bring against them.

Germany, foreseeing the possibility of a blockade 1918-fashion, carefully planned so she would not be dependent on raw materials sources outside Europe. She was not entirely successful, but the blockade of this war is far less crippling than last time.

Raiding Force

Germany's navy was never designed to protect her supply lines, as was Britain's. It is mainly a raiding force, the chief value of which has been the pinning down of a British fleet in the North Sea to meet its constant threat.

Japan, however, has to have a powerful fleet to protect her supply lines, support her island bases and hold on to stolen conquests.

That she is fully aware of the expansion of our fleet (which is expected to have double the number of fighting ships this year over last) is shown by the careful way she has been hoarding her battleships and carriers and by the plans to evacuate Tokyo because of the certainty of U. S. air raids (perhaps based on carriers).

New Carriers

We had 11 aircraft carriers and 15 battleships a-building when we entered the war. The Navy has not revealed how many of these mighty weapons are now in service, but we probably have at least four new carriers, the Essex, Bunker Hill, Yorktown and Lexington, out somewhere giving the Japs fits. Our total carrier force now may number nearly a dozen big ones according to some reports.

Of the big sluggers, six have been added to the fleet, including the South Dakota, Indiana, Massachusetts and Alabama, all bristling with powerful anti-aircraft defenses that can knock off Jap planes like flies.

To add to Japan's naval worries, the surrender of the Italian fleet released immense Allied sea forces in the Mediterranean, and there is little doubt that the bulk of these will be sent at once to India for the approaching seaborne invasion of Burma.

77 Italian Ships

In all, 77 Italian warships fell into our hands, including five battleships, eight cruisers, 29 destroyers, 19 submarines and one seaplane carrier. While there might be some difficulty in getting large quantities of their size ammunition, the naval base at Taranto seized by the British may have sufficient to use the warships for patrol duty.

The small French fleet must not be overlooked in listing the United Nations' naval assets.

Spearheaded by the powerful 35,000-ton battleship Richelieu (newly overhauled in the U. S.), the French fleet on our side has in fighting trim at least one other battleship, one aircraft carrier, nine cruisers, 10 destroyers and a score of subs.

Some 46 French warships came over to the Allies, after the North African invasion, but it will probably be 1944 before a French navy as such can be rebuilt and fully equipped. Undoubtedly one of the jobs being saved for the effective French naval forces is the invasion of France.

Hugh Olson Is Winner Of Bond Award

Hugh Olson, 112 Main street, North Warren, was the winner of the $25 War Bond offered by the Buffalo Blood Bank at the time of its last visit to Warren. On the second day's visit of the Blood Bank to Warren, Sheffield or Chautauque Co., New York, would be richer by this amount.

All persons who made donations in September were eligible, and the award came to Warren county. The awarding of bonds to blood donors is not a regular procedure but was made by interested parties in Buffalo in the hopes that such a gesture might add increased interest to this purely patriotic act.

The next visit of the Blood Bank to Warren will be on October 18 and 19. New donors are needed and may find applications blanks at any drug store or may secure blanks from Red Cross Headquarters, 404 Market street.

Higher Level Of Enrichment In White Bread

The War Food Administration calls attention of the Nation's baking industry to a change in Federal standards (announced in the July 3 Federal Register) which will require a higher level of enrichment in the manufacture of white bread beginning October 1.

The new standards for enriched flour, prescribed under the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, require more thiamine, niacin, and iron in the enrichment process. A temporary exemption with respect to riboflavin will expire October 1 and all enriched flour after that date will be required to contain this vitamin in the amount specified by the standards.

Help War Prisoners

Sometimes strange coincidences are found in the work of War Prisoners Aid of the Young Men's Christian Association. After one of the War Prisoners Aid staff members had lectured in a West Coast city he received a letter from the mother of a boy in the Army Air Force, who wrote: "My boy is in the Air Force in Australia and, of course, is in little danger of being taken prisoner there. However, your work seemed to be so humane and necessary to me that I just felt I had to send you a contribution. I hope it will help some other mother's boy who is captured by the enemy."

The same day War Prisoners Aid received that letter, the first cable carrying names of Americans captured in North Africa was delivered to its New York offices at 347 Madison Avenue. The first prisoner listed was the son of that woman. He had been transferred from Australia to North Africa! War Prisoners Aid of the Y. M. C. A. stimulates recreational, educational and religious activities in prison camps throughout the world. Its headquarters are in Geneva, Switzerland.

WAR DOG DUTIES If you've wondered in which branch of the service your enlisted war dog will serve, he'll be trained as a specialist for sentry duty, attack operations, messenger service, silent scouts, casualty relief or as a pack and sledge dog.

Federal court will convene at Erie at 10 a. m. next Tuesday with Judge F. P. Schoonmaker presiding, it was announced today. The grand jury will be sworn in at that time and the criminal trial list will be called.

The cost of fuel to run a destroyer one mile is 50 cents. Destroyers are potent weapons against Axis subs. Keep 'em sailing! Everybody Reads the Times-Mirror by buying War Bonds.

TONS OF MAPS NEEDED Map tonnage is something to be reckoned with during the progress of a battle. The first assault in North Africa called for 110 tons of maps, whereas 400 tons more were added as the campaign progressed.

Pennsylvania industrial activity, with factory payrolls at a new weekly peak of over $50,000,000 and employment of more than 1,350,000 wage-earners, broke all records last month.

"GO AWAY, CUSTOMER!" The telephone company is now spending more money to discourage business than it normally does to promote it, due to overloading of circuits by war activity calls.

MEN of the Armed Forces! A distinctive military portrait is the "tops" gift for the folks back home. Every Smith portrait is as good as we can make it. They're not expensive either.

County 4-H Club Girls Make Interesting Contributions

4-H club work has never been more important in Warren County than it has been this summer. The contributions of the Warren County 4-H club girls to the war effort, as shown by a summary of each club's accomplishments yields some very interesting figures.

Each member reported at their final club meeting on the progress she has made towards a Victory Service Goal. The goal for clothing club girls was to repair and renovate 15 garments. 67 girls completed this goal. The majority of the girls exceeded it. 1545 garments were repaired by 4-H members in Warren County this year.

Other results shown in the service records of these rural girls are as follows:

100 members made an effort to eat the right foods.

$1336.57 was invested in war saving stamps and bonds this summer. This was exclusive of the amount purchased in school.

50 members have helped repair farm and home equipment. This includes tools, furniture machinery, etc.

94 assisted with their family gardens.

72 assisted with their family poultry flock.

86 assisted with family canning.

2751 1/2 quarts of foods were canned with their assistance.

These girls worked 7251 hours assisting their parents with planting, harvesting, etc.

They spent 2213 hours assisting neighbors. 61 girls aided welfare organizations.

Surely the contribution of these fine rural young people has been a splendid one this summer. In addition they have all benefited in the skills they have acquired and the directed recreation they have enjoyed.

Warren Dragons Set For Tough Game With Oil City

Loss of Gusty Arrigo Expected To Inspire Locals To Win Third

With Warren's crucial gridiron game against the Oil City Blue and White on tap tomorrow at Russell Field at 2:30, it looks like the dragons have ample excuse to pull a "Gipp" for the first time in 25 years.

There's no doubt but what the entire team will be out to win one for their star quarterback, Gusty Arrigo, who enters the navy on Monday and is playing for the colors of Warren High for the final time tomorrow.

That feeling of "win one for Arrigo" is spreading all through the school today and when they step out on the battleground, Arrigo's final battle for the school, it will never be in the higher spirits that they're carrying with them tomorrow.

Reports out of Oil City have it that their team has two injuries listed after last week's win over the mighty Bradford Owls, but, they have back with them their ace signal caller, who has been out of action since the first game with a wrenched knee.

Warren's line has been considerably strengthened by the string of practice sessions all week in preparation for the tough Oilers and they are expected to carry plenty of load tomorrow with the reputedly hard hitting rival backfield against them.

Tomorrow's "Arrigo Day" and the fans are going to see a brand of gridiron play on Russell Field that will rival anything seen in years with their toughest game to date facing them against the Oil City Oilers.

Ridgeway Plays At Sheffield Tomorrow

The Ekers have been working hard this week in preparation for their match with the Wolverines at Sheffield Saturday. Coach Stanford warned his charges against over-confidence and has convinced the Ekers they will meet stiff opposition in the battle with the Wolverines.

Comparative scores show the Ekers superior to their Saturday opponents, but Stanford reminded the squad that a similar condition existed in 1937 and Ridgeway returned home on the short end of a 6 to 12 score.

Sheffield, where Stanford got his first taste of the gridiron sport, always puts out a little extra against Ridgeway, and there is no reason to believe this year will be no exception. The Wolverines will be a vastly improved club this Saturday compared to the one that dropped the opener to Johnsonburg, 25 to 6, last week.

Saturday Grid Feast Is An Important One

New York, Oct. 1.—(P)—An appetizer of two games tonight will prepare fans for the second Saturday football feast of the season tomorrow, when a well-filled program of major contests will go far toward deciding the question of which teams belong in the top brackets.

The fact that the White Sox landed on Bill Zuber for an 8 to 3 victory after Chandler's departure was important only to the Sox who are putting on a great drive to oust Cleveland from third place. The triumph—No. 11 of the season for Southpaw Edgar Smith was the Sox's 13th success in 16 starts and put them within one percentage point of the Indians.

Bowling Scores

ARCADIA
In the Youngsville League, ABC Score and Pleasant Valley split the ABC Score hit 788 for new high team game and J. Carr of this team hit 211 for new high single.

Pleasant Valley hit 2332 for high team total and C. Anderson of this team hit 518 for high individual honors. Miller's team took all four from Walter's Hardware. John Sweetland's 505 was best for this match.

Comparative scores show the Ekers superior to their Saturday opponents, but Stanford reminded the squad that a similar condition existed in 1937 and Ridgeway returned home on the short end of a 6 to 12 score.

Sheffield, where Stanford got his first taste of the gridiron sport, always puts out a little extra against Ridgeway, and there is no reason to believe this year will be no exception. The Wolverines will be a vastly improved club this Saturday compared to the one that dropped the opener to Johnsonburg, 25 to 6, last week.

Canada sends the United States about 64,000 tons of bacon in normal years.

Here is your table of certain results for the week-end.
Digest them carefully, and we hope they agree with you—hawl! Confidently I have a hunch that the Dragons are going out and win tomorrow's game as a fine send-off for Arrigo.

Startling off, we wish to call your attention especially to service games. Too bad we must select Great Lakes to lose its game to Pittsburgh, but your correspondent simply is obeying the dictates of his astronomical system, based on the orbits of Jupiter, Saturn

East Hickory Pilot Killed In Air Crash

First Lieutenant Jack R. Black, 24, bomber pilot and only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Black of East Hickory, was killed in a plane crash during maneuvers in Oregon, according to a message received by his family at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The message contained no details.

In addition to his parents, Lieut. Black leaves his wife, the former Virginia M. Wright, daughter of Mrs. Hilda Wright of East Hickory; a sister, Merle Wright of Buffalo.

The lieutenant, who would have been 25 in November, entered the service on March 26, 1941, and was graduated October 9, 1942, from the advanced flying school for bomber pilots at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas, receiving his silver wings and second lieutenant's commission. He was promoted to first lieutenant in July, 1943.

No funeral arrangements have been made, but the body will be brought East.

Leighton, Oct. 1.—(P)—That tomato plant in Ernest Nicholson's victory garden is certainly going all out for the war effort. Nicholson's latest count showed 78 tomatoes on it.

Chandler Demonstrates He Is in Top Form Against the Sox

(From Page Ten)
 A possible starter by shutting out the New York Giants, 1 to 0, on six hits in a night game at St. Louis, Rookie Bill Voelke of the Giants yielded only five hits, but in the eighth when Lou Klein singled Harry Walker home from second base.

The Brooklyn Dodgers tightened their hold on third place in the National League by capitalizing on a shaky start by Elmer Riddle to beat Cincinnati, 3 to 2, and end the Reds' 10-game winning streak.

A third inning three-bagger by Billy Herman provided the one-run margin that Kirby Higbe held to the end for his 13th victory. Riddle, trying for his 22nd victory, yielded only one hit in the last six innings, but the damage had been done.

Rookie Andy Pafko, selected as the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast League where he played with Los Angeles, sparked the Chicago Cubs to an uphill 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Braves in 12 innings. The Cubs won in the 12th on Pafko's fourth hit of the game. Nate Andrews, who went the route for the Braves, suffered his 20th defeat.

Luckless Luman Harris of the Philadelphia Athletics lost his 21st game of the season as Detroit blanked the A's, 6 to 0. Joe Hoover blasted a three-run homer to back up four hit pitching by Frank Overmire and Hal White. Overmire retired in the sixth after being hit in the leg by a line drive.

A scheduled doubleheader between the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns was cancelled because of the weather. The Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates had an open date.

(From Page Eight)
MUCH later, Jane heard foot-steps on the stairs and knew that Uncle Ed had not been in his room during his wife's broken sobbing. She heard him pass her door and go into her own room. Then came the opening and closing of another door.

An odd time for so much to be going on. Jane clicked on the bedside lamp. Three o'clock. And Uncle Ed . . . Maybe he is playing around, she thought. Maybe that's why Aunt Ella cried. She tried to make herself believe it but something didn't click. Some part of the pattern refused to fall into place.

I'm too nervous to sleep . . . Maybe if I had an aspirin . . . She pulled on her robe and hurried down the hall to the bathroom, her bare feet padding silently over the carpet. She took two aspirin tablets.

"I don't care, Ed. I hate it," Ella Black's voice came clearly to the girl in the bathroom next door.

"Don't be foolish," Uncle Ed sounded angry. "There's nothing you can do. Just let me do as I see fit."

There was more, but Jane fled to the seclusion of her own room. Aunt Ella and Uncle Ed were quarreling—and they had never done that before, to her knowledge. Always they had seemed the perfectly matched couple. Jane turned out her light and lay staring into the darkness.

It must be true about Uncle Ed and the blonde woman. Jane wondered who she was. What had Brad said? "Ed sure can pick 'em" or something of the sort. A typical masculine wisecrack.

She yawned, sleep finally fighting its way through the jumble that filled her mind. Was she falling in love with Brad Forrester? She hadn't thought she would—ever again. Not after Joe Masters and the pain that came when she learned of his death. "Killed in action," the telegram had said. Later word came that he had been cited for gallantry, but that was small comfort to her. Java was so far away . . .

Small wonder I'm restless, he groused. All hell ready to pop—and me powerless to stop it!

I don't even know who's ram-rod-ding it, he thought, flinging the cigarette into an ash-tray. Half angry at himself, he lit another cigarette, inhaling nervously. It was almost three o'clock when there was a rap at his door. He stiffened. This is one of those things you hear about, he thought, wondering for a split second if his number was up. Many such incidents were recorded in the annals of the service. An agent knowing a little too much . . . Only he didn't. Not nearly enough.

He slipped his gun into the dressing gown pocket and held it ready. One flick of the wrist and the door was open.

A freckled-faced stranger stood smiling. "Johnny Reynolds," the newcomer introduced himself. "Vic sent his regards."

"Fine. Glad you're here, Reynolds. Come in and sit down." Brad gave him a quick review of the case. Johnny Reynolds rocked his suitcase back and forth. Finally, when Brad was finished, he said:

"I have a camera here," he indicated the suitcase. "How about a picture of that letter. Just in case," he added significantly.

Brad watched him make the necessary arrangements, fussing with the lights until they struck the sheet just so. Finally it was done and Brad returned the letter to the money belt where he kept his credentials.

"They get these over my dead body," he said, grinning.

"That's been done, too, fella," Reynolds made a wry face. "Don't make statements like that in broad daylight. Somebody might take you up on it."

"Yeah," Brad lapsed into silence. Strange, he thought, me thinking of Jane now.

Reynolds nodded. He respected Brad Forrester for his past record. Although they had not worked together, he realized that if Brad said a case was tough, it was.

"Any ideas?" he asked. "Nothing tangible. Chester Billingsley had something, I'm sure, but they got him first." He already had told of Jane finding the letter and thinking Billingsley was a spy. "He called Jane—Miss Carter," he amended so swiftly that the other man grinned. "The killer must have come in then, for the phone went dead. Jane called me. We found him in the office. You know the rest."

Brad was tired. "Chet was a grand guy, Johnny," he mused, lighting a cigarette. "Have one?" He extended the pack to Reynolds. "He didn't have to be in this. He could have said nix and bowed out anytime he wanted to. Oh, no, no, Chester Billingsley. He had too much of what it takes."

WHEN he lapsed into silence again, Reynolds made no move to speak. There was nothing for him to say. This man had lost a friend and what he said tonight was a tribute to that friend. So Johnny Reynolds, busy with his own thoughts, watched the smoke float in lazy rings toward the ceiling and said nothing.

Brad didn't know how long he sat there, mulling over what had happened, but his new assistant was dozing in his chair. A smile was playing about his lips, giving him a very youthful appearance. Lord, what kids they send out, Brad thought. But a very efficient kid, he was sure. There was something about the squarish jaw that told him that.

His legs were stiff from sitting in one position too long. He stretched, nudging Johnny with the toe of his slipper.

"Wake up, kid. It's time for you to move on."

The young man grinned sheepishly. "Guess I went to sleep," he said.

"Guess so," Brad averred. "We shouldn't be seen together, so you'd best be showing off."

Reynolds nodded. He shrugged into his overcoat.

"Be seen' you," he said and Brad, holding the door open for him, nodded.

At least Jane's safe. Brad thought, watching the kid until he disappeared down the stairway. Knowing that meant a lot.

German Defenders
Thrown Back Upon
Defenses of Rome

United States and British Forces Find Italy's Third
Greatest City Empty of Enemies After Engaging
In Orgy of Destruction

NO TIME TO BE LOST MAKING HARBOR USABLE

By NOLAN NORGARD

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American Fifth Army today captured Naples, Italy's third greatest city, and threw the German defenders back upon the defenses of Rome, which is 120 airline miles to the north.

The American and British forces which clattered into Naples found the city of 925,000 empty of Germans, who for a week had engaged in an orgy of destruction and terrorism designed to burn and tear down every installation that would be of benefit to Allied forces and to hamper Italian cooperation with the liberating armies.

The special Allied headquarters communique, announcing the fall of Naples, did not give the time at which Allied troops seized the greatest city and port they have won on the continent of Europe.

(The United Nations radio at Algiers, in a broadcast recorded by OWI, said naval experts at Allied headquarters estimated the harbor of Naples "in its most important respects can be made serviceable in eight days from now.")

The powerful British and American armored columns which pushed into Naples reached their objective by taking Torre Annunziata, steel town on the shelf of land between the Bay of Vesuvius, late Wednesday.

Torre Annunziata is nine miles south of Naples.

They then had to fight a cautious battle with German rearguards manning anti-tank guns in orchards and other places of concealment, root out hundreds of mines and overcome numerous obstacles and demolitions.

While these forces battle toward the great pall of smoke that had hung over Naples for days, other American and British forces advanced to the east of the city and along the Adriatic.

American spearhead for 10 miles and captured Avellino, 30 miles due east of Naples, in an encircling maneuver which posed a threat to the German retreat to the Volturno.

Avellino, a city of 16,000, is a focal point of six roads and on the trunk highway between Naples and Foggia, and is only 17 miles south of Benevento, another important communications center on the Volturno.

Aussies Half Mile From the

By WILLIAM F. BONT

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 1.—(P)—New Guinea front-line reports today placed one spearhead of Australians a half mile from the well-protected harbor of Finschhafen.

The Japanese, ejected bloodily from all high ground before the one-time German settlement, now oppose the encircling assault troops

Bradford Couple
On Water Voyage

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—(P)—A Thanksgiving Day dinner with their soldier son at Sarasota, Fla., 3,000-mile voyage, is the goal of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schenholm, of Bradford, Pa., who left yesterday in their 32-foot sailboat "Square Head" for a voyage down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

The couple will proceed to New Orleans, from where, federal authorities permitting, they will sail the Gulf of Mexico to Florida.

Upon their arrival at Sarasota, their son, Sgt. Albert Schenholm, Jr., will welcome them for the scheduled turkey dinner.

Schenholm worked for eight months and spent $6,000 in building the boat. The craft was transported on a big trailer truck from Bradford to Kittanning where it was launched.

Girl Technician Is Abducted

PHONES SHE IS SAFE

Honesdale, Oct. 1.—(P)—A girl technician whom police said was abducted yesterday from the Farview, Pa., State Hospital for the Criminally Insane by an escaping inmate, telephoned her father from Camden, N. J., today and said "I am all right, but he won't let me go," the father, Philip Murray, reported.

"Please come and get me," Murray quoted her as saying.

Then the connection was broken, Murray said.

At Camden, detectives immediately began a search of the neighborhood from which telephone operators said the call was made.

The girl is Miss Clara May Murray, 26, of Honesdale. Thomas Rutherford, superintendent of the hospital, identified the inmate as Eugene Caster, 22, of Harrisburg, Pa.

Murray quoted his daughter as saying that Caster "is not vicious or dangerous. He hasn't hurt me. Rutherford earlier had said that Caster "is not an ugly type."

Caster escaped in an automobile, forcing Miss Murray to accompany him, Rutherford said, after frightening Peter Ryan, 41, an attendant, with "something black in his hand" and locking him in a hospital room.

Then, Rutherford said, Caster apparently went into the laboratory where Miss Murray was working and made her accompany him to her automobile, which was parked on the grounds.

Cash Subsidies
To Dairymen
Are Ordered

Washington, Oct. 1.—(P)—Cash subsidies to 3,000,000 dairymen and restrictions on retail consumption of dairy products in 13 heavily populated areas were ordered today by the government in an effort to hold down prices and avoid rationing.

Producer spokesmen declared however their belief that the subsidy program, now in effect, would fail materially to boost dwindling supplies of milk and dairy products.

The subsidy plan contemplates the payment of federal benefits ranging from 25 to 50 cents per hundred pounds of whole milk to offset higher dairy feed costs. The War Food Administration (WFA) estimated the subsidy would cost between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000 during the next three months.

A request by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission for approval of price increases of two and three cents a quart for milk in Pennsylvania, covering all marketing areas except Philadelphia, is pending before the Office of Price Administration. Regional officials of that agency at New York indicated it would be disapproved in favor of the subsidy plan.

In the Solomons, a navy spokesman said 200 American planes participated Monday and Tuesday in raids on the Japanese bases of Kahili on Meangina Island and Vila on Kolombangara.

Martin Praises War-Time
Accomplishments of Papers

Harrisburg, Oct. 1.—(P)—Governor Martin praised war-time accomplishments of newspapers in a statement opening National Newspaper Week today in Pennsylvania. The observance will continue until October 8.

"Never in history," the chief executive said in a statement, "has the power of the press been more manifest than at this moment when we are faced with the greatest emergency the world has ever known."

Asserting that "newspapers demonstrated an amazing capacity to do a big job," in promoting sales of war bonds and stamps and other war efforts, Governor Martin added:

"Not once have they faltered. Team."

Warren County Is Well Up Among
Leaders in Area

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—(P)—Beaver county took the lead in proportionate war bond sales in the 19-county Fort Pitt area today by pushing 19 per cent beyond its quota, officials of the Third War Loan drive announced.

The nine other counties were also 100 per cent, or better.

The leading counties were listed as follows:

Beaver, with sales of 119 per cent, Allegheny, with 116 per cent, Warren and Mercer, 111 each, Butler and Lawrence, 107 each, Venango 106, Crawford 102, Fayette 101 and Forest 100.

Tabulations today gave the area total sales of $319,416,000—$13,607,100 in excess of the quota. Allegheny county has subscribed $228,994,000. Its quota was $202,807,500.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—(P)—Pennsylvania reached 91 per cent of its Third War Loan goal of $1,071,000,000 today with $976,610,000 officially reported.

Philadelphia went over the top yesterday, passing its $490,048,000 quota by an estimated $2,000,000.

Campaign to Rally Italian
People Against Fascist
Republic Mapped

NEGOTIATIONS ARE ON

By WILLIAM FRYE

Washington, Oct. 1.—(P)—The Allies probably will recognize the government of Marshal Badoglio and King Victor Emmanuel, and launch a campaign to rally the Italian people against the Nazi-fostered Fascist republic of Mussolini.

This was the belief expressed today by an official, in constant and close touch with the Italian situation, who added that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower already is negotiating with the Badoglio government as a co-belligerent—with the approval of the American, British and Russian governments.

The statements were made in reply to questions concerning a recent dispatch from the provisional Italian capital that American and British soldiers were not enthusiastic toward the apparent determination of the Badoglio government to "force itself upon the United Nations as an ally."

This dispatch also disclosed that officers of AMG, arriving in (Turn to Page Eleven)

Gangland's Double
Cross Is Revived

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(P)—Gangland's double cross—not now procedure in Chicago's gang history—cost the lives of two Chicago hoodlums within the last five months, State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney disclosed today.

He said the murders of Danny Stanton and Martin (Sonny Boy) Quirk, stemming from the revival of big-scale gambling operations on the city's south side, had been solved by the confession of an ex-convict, a member of the gang once headed by the slain mobsters.

Courtney identified the ex-convict as James Egan, 30. The state's attorney said a second man under arrest, Anthony De Loro, also an ex-convict, had agreed Egan's confession was true, but declined to make a confession himself.

Harriman Named
For Moscow Post

Washington, Oct. 1.—(P)—W. Averell Harriman was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be ambassador to Russia.

Harriman was named to succeed Admiral William H. Standley, who returned recently to make a report on the Soviet government's attitude toward projected Anglo-American-Russian war talks. Before leaving Moscow, the 71-year-old Standley made it known he did not want to return to his diplomatic post.

Harriman, who will be 52 next month, has been lease-lend administrator in London since 1941.

SERVICE CALLS TO DADS ARE BEING ISSUED

Congressional Debate Over
Issue Becomes Purely Academic as Former
E-A's Are Called

SUBSTITUTE PROPOSED

Washington, Oct. 1.—(P)—Congressional debate over drafting fathers became a purely academic issue today as Selective Service calls began going out to former E-A's.

Administration leaders considered accepting as a substitute for the Wheeler "don't draft fathers" bill which still was being argued in the senate, a proposal by Senator Bailey (D-NC) and Clark (D-Mo) to strip the federal payrolls of any military useful non-fathers.

While refusing to commit himself, Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) expressed the view this move wouldn't give the army more than 15,000 men.

True, that would mean a division, he conceded, but it might not necessarily provide "a good division," and would not make up for the 446,000 fathers that selective service says are needed to fill draft quotas up to the end of the year.

Already claiming sufficient votes to reject the bill by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) to postpone the drafting of fathers until Jan. 1, the administration swung its guns against a proposal by a bi-partisan group led by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Under it deferments would be prohibited for non-fathers under 30 years old for occupational reasons, induction quotas would be filled on a nationwide instead of local basis, and the draft would proceed progressively by six categories, starting with single men who have dependents other than wives and children.

Fathers under 25 would be taken before those from 25 (Turn to Page Eleven)

Rains Bring
State Relief
From Drought

By the Associated Press

The long drought was broken in many parts of Pennsylvania today by showers whipping in on the heels of a gale from the Atlantic coast.

The rain came too late to be of much benefit to crops, but brought relief to many communities whose water supplies had dwindled to the danger point.

Showers were predicted for the entire state today, with a forecast of clear and cooler weather by nightfall.

Considerable damage was caused by winds in Philadelphia last night. A ship, blown off its course in the Delaware river, crashed and sank a tugboat, but all of its nine crew members were rescued. Electric wires and trees were felled by the gale in the city. An inch of rain fell up to midnight.

The rain came just in time to forestall an all-time record for dry Septembers in Harrisburg. By midnight, 55 of an inch had fallen, whereas the capital had only 41 of an inch in all the rest of the month. The all-time low for September there was 48 of an inch.

Reading had a heavy rainfall and strong winds, but in Scranton the precipitation was light and the winds moderate.

Given Life Term Plus
One to Three Years

Uniontown, Oct. 1.—(P)—George Tate of near Hayden town, has an extra-long sentence to serve in Western Penitentiary—life plus one to three years.

He was paroled from a life term for slaying his father, Iley Tate, only to run afoul of the law on a charge of stealing money from a brother-in-law, John A. Brownfield.

Judge W. Russell Carr yesterday gave him one to three years in prison, to start upon expiration of his previous term.

In East Is Announced With
Reduction In Both B and C

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, Oct. 1.—(P)—A broad revision of rationing described as necessary to spread the gasoline supply more equitably today gave A-card motorists in the east more fuel by cutting down the amounts allowed drivers with the supplemental B and C cards.

The shakeup in ration card values effective last midnight applies everywhere east of the Rocky Mountains.

The Office of Price Administration (OPA) increased the ration of east coast A-card holders from 1½ to 2 gallons weekly. B and C coupons were reduced to 2 gallons, everywhere except in the Rockies and on the Pacific coast.

OPA said the B and C reductions would accomplish "virtual equalization of rations through an area where supplies are short," and simultaneously align gasoline consumption with amounts available.

Chairman Lea (D-Calif.) of the house interstate committee, indicated that the new setup would have no effect on a proposed investigation of gasoline rationing and distribution.

The B and C value changes, which OPA said were made to provide the increase for east coast A card holders, mean that in the Midwest, southwest and southeast supplementary rations are cut from 3 to 2 gallons. In the northeastern states the reduction is from 2½ to 2 gallons.

OPA pledged, however, that supplementary rations would be granted in cases of grave hardship.

The additional A-card allotment was put into immediate effect in the 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia by shortening the validity period of the A-6 coupons currently in use. These will expire Nov. 8 instead of Nov. 21. The A-7 coupons have been removed from new books now being distributed in the area.

A-8 coupons will become valid Nov. 9 and will be good for three gallons each through Feb. 8.

OPA stipulated that in the Midwest and southwest one gallon of the three allowed A card holders must be used for occupational driving before the motorist is eligible for supplementary rations. East coast drivers were not bound by this regulation.

Free Rome, the Vatican and
Pope Objectives of the Allies

Washington, Oct. 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today the objective of Allied forces in Italy was to free Rome, the Vatican and the Pope, much in the manner of a crusade, while at the same time avoiding all possible destruction.

Mr. Roosevelt showed some skepticism at a press-radio conference about news reports that the Germans might make their next stand on the line of Rome, now that the Allies have entered Naples.

He said he did not think even General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, knew where the next stand would be.

He said three minutes before the news conference opened he had received a flash from the general saying that Allied troops had entered Naples.

The president asserted there was one thing he could say—that naturally the advance is going to continue and that every effort is being made by the Allies to prevent damage to Rome and the Vatican. They are doing everything possible to prevent active fighting leading to destruction in Rome.

It is clear the Germans occupy Rome and that the Vatican is essentially surrounded, the president said. German troops are in the colosseum around St. Peter's Square, and while he did not wish to say that the Allies had won, he said that complete freedom ran of had if troops are in your front yard and inspect every one coming in and going out.

Center of Gorizia
Believed Destroyed

London, Oct. 1.—(P)—A German war correspondent's dispatch relayed through Spain said today that the northeastern Italian communications center of Gorizia had been virtually destroyed by artillery fire in a prolonged siege by Yugoslav partisans.

This account said that bands of Slovene and Croat irregulars, supported by Italians, attacked the city from the north and south Sept. 22, but that the timely arrival of reinforcements enabled the German garrison to withstand the assault after days of heavy fighting.

Other reports reaching Madrid said the entire area between Gorizia across the Yugoslav border to Ljubljana was controlled by the partisans who have cut the railway between the two cities.

SMALL GAINS SHOWN IN BUSINESS INDEX

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—(P)—Small gains which together were slightly more favorable than the average seasonal change were reflected in the index of business activity for the Pittsburgh district last week, the University of Pittsburgh Business Research Bureau announced.

Sales of department stores in the week ending Sept. 25 were nine per cent above those of the corresponding week of 1942.

Pick of Russian Ukrainian Armies Face Germans
Across 100-Yard
Water Barrier

DNIEPER LINE AT STAKE

By ROGER GREENE

Associated Press War Editor
Adolf Hitler's boast that "here I stand here I stay"—on the Dnieper river line—came under tempestuous fire by Russian siege armies today as one of the war's most critical battles raged in fog and rain around the Ukraine capital at Kiev.

With only 100 yards of water barrier separating them from their goal, the Russians were throwing tremendous forces of artillery, infantry and aircraft into the fight to break through the heart of Germany's great "second wall" fortifications.

Kiev lies about midway along the rambling 900-mile Dnieper which stretches from Smolensk in the north to the Black Sea in the south.

A broadcast from the secret German underground station, Atlantic, said Hitler had told his generals at the Russian front that they must immediately eliminate "the Stalingrad psychosis" and must yield "not another foot of ground" beyond the Dnieper.

"From now on the Dnieper will be the natural front to separate both armies," the fuhrer commanded.

"This front will stand. The winter positions have been ready a long time and are well built and can be regarded as impossible to take."

Soviet dispatches emphasized that the Germans were powerfully entrenched in Kiev's ancient fortress, high on the western cliffs of the Dnieper, and claimed no further advances in the Kiev sector.

Fierce air battles were reported blazing over the city while Russian siege guns bombarded the Nazi-held citadel from the east bank.

New Type Nazi
Torpedo Deadly
And Efficient

An Eastern Canadian Port, Oct. 1.—(P)—German submarines have returned to the battle of the Atlantic with a new type of torpedo—deadly and efficient—declared more than 100 survivors of sunken Allied merchant vessels who were landed here earlier this week.

They were victims of the first big Nazi U-boat attack reported in North Atlantic waters for nearly four months. Included were American, British and Norwegian seamen and a lone stowaway—an 18-year-old negro girl whom a boatswain, also a negro, had hoped to smuggle into the United States.

The survivors included about 40 negroes from an American ship. They did not know the total losses of the convoy and escorts, but they knew four ships of their convoy were sunk and at least one of a low convoy preceding theirs.

County Lags In Subscribers
To Third War Loan Campaign

With Warren county over the top from a dollars and cents standpoint in the Third War Loan drive, the emphasis was placed today in getting the county up to quota in the number of subscribers.

Through Thursday, the number of subscribers had reached 6,226, leaving the county nearly an even 2,000 subscribers short of the $250 buyer goal.

The United States Treasury has extended the time of the Third War Loan to October 16 for the purchase of the Series E, F, and G Bonds. While the 2, 2½, and 3 Bonds will count in the third war loan totals only if purchased by October 2. Tomorrow is the last day that purchasers of these latter type bonds will have to get their dollars in, and add their names to the list of Warren county purchasers.

It is estimated by K. R. Barrett, Executive secretary of the Warren County War Finance Committee, that there are still upwards of three hundred unredeemed pledges in the hands of Warren county banks and post offices. These unredeemed pledges cannot be counted until those who have made them go to their banks and exchange their cash for the bonds they ordered.

The bond issuing agents in the county have made special arrangements to handle the anticipated last-minute rush of bond buyers tomorrow with the greatest speed and efficiency. With the close of the drive only hours away, it is hoped that everyone who has not yet done so, will grasp this opportunity to get their dollars into the fight.

Salem Church

Has Reception

For Minister

A very well attended tureen supper was held last evening in Salem Evangelical church as a prelude to the welcoming reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Schieb, returned to the charge for another year of service.

Details were in charge of the Salem Ladies' Aid, with Rev. Ernest Kaebnick offering the opening prayer. The serving was followed by a program which opened with a song, "Welcome," by the beginners' department.

After a short talk by Simon Huber, Mrs. Gust Ristau read a poem and a selection was sung by a trio composed of Mrs. Fred Rosentrater, Mrs. Carl Jones and Mrs. Kaebnick. Melba Olsen was accompanied by Ruth Ackert for two pleasing solos, "Bless This House" and "The Lord's Prayer".

To conclude, the Sunday school superintendent, Ivan Rydholm, presented the honored guests with a gift.

By German account, only the timely arrival of reinforcements enabled the Nazi garrison at Gorizia to withstand the assault by Yugoslav patriots after days of bitter fighting. Berlin said "the notorious Major William Jones," a British army officer, was leading the partisans.

Other reports said the entire region between Gorizia across the Yugoslav frontier to Ljubljana was controlled by guerrilla forces which had cut the railway between the two cities.

THE ERIC TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION 77 has directed that its charter be draped for 60 days in memory of the late Jesse L. Boyle, one of its members who died last August 18. This action was taken in a resolution adopted in a recent union meeting. Boyle served as secretary treasurer of the union for the last two decades and was largely instrumental in promoting the growth of the organization. He formerly was employed by The Republican.

Film Warning Against Black Market Coming to the Library

A short film on why housewives must not buy from black markets will be shown at the Library Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week when the "Constant Nymph" is the feature attraction, according to a letter received by George Sarvis, manager. This is in line with the policy of Warner Bros. to cooperate in every way with the war effort, not only in the selling of bonds and stamps but also in the fight against unpatriotic practices of black markets.

Warren County Defense Council has arranged for the women selling bonds and stamps to provide patrons of the theatre with pledges to be signed as they leave the Library theatre. These say: "I will pay no more than legal top prices. I buy no rationed goods without giving ration stamps," the Home Front Pledge.

New posters have been received by the price clerk, showing the difference in prices in this war and in the first World War in 1917. The poster is in the form of a graph. Price control today has kept prices far below the 1917 levels in spite of the fact that we are feeding millions more today. With the enormous demand for American food throughout the world, we must work constantly against black markets, or merchants selling above ceiling prices according to OPA bulletins.

The Price Panel assistants have just completed a check on meat prices at 14 representative stores in Warren county. This report was sent from the Erie district office to the regional office.

Change Made In Lions Club Meeting Day

Members of the local Lions Club have made a change in meeting plans for next week, gathering at the YWCA activities building at 12:15 p. m. Monday instead of Tuesday.

Purpose of the change is to accommodate the visiting itinerary of the district governor of Lions, C. L. Schmitt, of New Kensington, who will be paying his official visit to the local unit.

Accompanying him will be Carl E. Benson, of Tionesta, who is deputy district governor of the organization.

Announcement is also made by club officials that the date of Saturday, October 9, has been set for the annual "Daisy Sale", with which the club raises funds for its work among the blind.

Trained Aides Form Crops Of Volunteers

At a meeting of Nurse's Aides held Wednesday evening at the YWCA activities building, the four classes which have completed the 80-hour training course combined to form a Volunteer Nurse's Aide Corps.

Mrs. William Schellhammer, a member of the Pioneer Class, was elected president; Mrs. Howard Lauffenburger, vice president; Mrs. Lester Blair, secretary.

The organization of this corps will provide the machinery for carrying on an educational program for the trained aides; will provide a channel of communication between the individual aide and the nurse's aide committee of the Red Cross; and it will serve as the organ through which assignments can be made and accurate records kept for every aide.

Mrs. W. F. Clinger, chairman of the Red Cross nursing committee, announced that Mrs. M. J. Connolly has been appointed chairman of the Nurse's Aide committee; Mrs. George Craft, vice chairman in charge of the class in training; and Mrs. William Lutz will have charge of records.

A social hour and refreshments followed the meeting.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwab, 12 Parker street, have had word of the transfer of all three of their sons in the armed forces. Flight Officer Ray H. Schwab goes from Honolulu, Texas, to Waro, Texas; Aviation Cadet LeRoy, from basic school at Santa Ana, Calif., to 29th Pal. Calif.; and Pfc. Harold, from Keesler Field, Miss., to Scott Field, Ill.

According to word received by their families, Staff Sgt. Norman A. Headlund and Cpl. Raymond E. Smith, of the U. S. Signal Corps, have been transferred from Camp Crozier, Mo., to Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Amacher, 109 Crescent street, have had word from their two sons that both have been transferred for further armed forces training. Aviation Cadet Frank W. has been sent from New Cumberland to Greensboro, N. C., for his basic training and Richard B. Freeman third class, has completed boot training at Sampson, N. Y., and is now at Richmond, Va., for further instruction.

INDUSTRIALISTS HEAR OF NEED OF SCRAP

At the Court House last evening a meeting was held in the small court room attended by about 45 of the industrialists about the city. The occasion was the visit to Warren of J. G. Lewis, of Cleveland, who outlined to the men the urgent need of more heavy scrap with which to keep the steel mills at top speed during the winter. Byron Knapp is the chairman of the local group and has his work well organized. Several interesting moving pictures which are being shown to restricted groups by the War Production Board were shown and much enjoyed. The work of assembling scrap in this county is going forward in a splendid manner and the men were complimented on their work.

Boys Steal 800 Gallons Of Gasoline

Three juveniles, one 13 and two 17 years of age, were arrested near East Branch in connection with the theft of approximately 800 gallons of gasoline, which they have been siphoning from a large storage tank owned by Howard Burleigh of that place. The thefts have been committed during a three months period.

Burleigh, an oil lease operator, has a 2,000-gallon storage tank near his home, which he uses in fueling machinery. The motor fuel has been stolen in various quantities over a period of three months, it is reported, an estimate being made that the total loss would approximate 800 gallons.

Pvt. Robert Parson of the Corry sub-station of state police made the arrests in the case, the youths later being released on their own recognizance. Warren county authorities were contacted and the court has issued an order summoning the boys into court on October 13 to answer a delinquency charge.

WARTIME HEALTH WEEK

In a pitched battle against absenteeism in war plants, the druggists of this city, jointly with all the pharmacists of the country, today fire the opening gun of a nationwide health educational campaign, Wartime Health Week. Although the event will officially end on October 11, it is understood that the campaign will continue for the duration.

The first announcement of Wartime Health Week drew quick approval from leading public health officials, who were quick to recognize the importance of a health program in the hands of the druggists of the nation, trained in health matters and occupying unique positions in every community.

That the need for a health drive such as Wartime Health Week exists is apparent from many official reports drawing attention to the appalling loss of time in war plants due to preventable illness.

For example, in his annual report, the managing director of The Industrial Hygiene Foundation, said in part:

"Precious work days lost in war industries through absenteeism, in the face of manpower shortages, constitute the gravest problem of the year in the field of industrial health.

"The main causes of absenteeism are sickness, accidents and voluntary unavailability. Sickness is by far the greatest single cause, claiming an estimated eight work days per worker yearly. With more than 17 million men and women workers, war industries are losing manpower at the rate of 136 million work days per year, or an average of more than 2½ million work days weekly, through sickness alone."

It is earnestly hoped that Wartime Health Week will be instrumental in helping to curtail materially absenteeism in war plants caused by preventable sickness.

Certainly, a noblesse of the 12 simple, common sense health rules for wartime which the druggists of America are distributing during the event will go far toward achieving that objective. It is suggested that you call upon your local druggist for a copy of these rules. His supply is limited.

SAVE SOAP TO SHARE IN WAR EFFORT

Soap consumption is increasing. Whether this is because Americans are cleaner in wartime than in peacetime is open to question.

The most likely answer to this is that more people are working in industry, is the opinion of Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, home economics representative in Warren county. Women and girls, as well as men, in factories, shipyards and railroad yards require more washing and bathing. Clothes of such workers become badly soiled and need quantities of soap to keep them clean.

This heavy demand on the soap supply makes it necessary for everyone to make soap reach as far as possible in order to save fat and glycerine, important for the manufacture of soap and essential war materials.

Mrs. Prendergast offers a few soap-saving suggestions:

- Use soft water whenever possible.
- Use water softener instead of extra soap.
- Remove wrapper from cake so soap can dry and harden. Hard soap goes farther than soft moist soap.
- Keep the soap dish dry.
- Use only enough soap to make the right suds for laundering. Too much suds prevents the water from going through the fabric.
- Dishes scraped and rinsed well will require less soap in washing.
- Save all scraps of soap. Dried, they may be put through the food chopper and used as chips; melted, they may be used as soap jelly.

WORLD WIDE COMMUNION

Protestant churches in Warren, in common with others throughout the world, are cooperating in the World Wide Communion next Sunday, sponsored by the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America, which has circulated the following invitations to members of the various denominations:

In these days of war when there is so much dividing men and nations, Christians must maintain an unbroken and unbreakable fellowship.

On October third, World Wide Communion Sunday, followers of Christ everywhere, in army camps and naval bases, on shipboard, in churches large and small, in the homeland and over seas, will bear witness to this fellowship. The world-wide observance of the Lord's Supper will cross frontiers of race, break through barriers of prejudice, and rise above the clash of nations.

If obedience to Him who said, "This do in remembrance of me," all who love Christ are called to gather about their Lord's table on the first Sunday in October, 1943, and recommit themselves to the unfinished task of His Eternal Kingdom.

Propped Open

They have no fuel oil.

When these problems are considered—and they will be equal in great or greater in France, Greece, the Balkans, the Netherlands, Norway, Denmark and Poland—the magnitude of the job becomes apparent.

In food, it seems now that the United Nations are up against it. England has no more than its minimum requirements and this nation is faced with a rationing possibility—yet Fuels Administrator Harold L. Ickes has announced that so urgent is the need for coal in Italy that some already is being shipped from here.

In fact, it seems now that absolute minimum requirements will be far greater and the length of time before freed nations can help feed themselves far longer than the most pessimistic predictions previously.

ALL that United Nations relief agencies are now shooting at is a minimum per capita subsistence level in food areas of about 2,000 calories a day, one-third less than average daily consumption here. This problem is how to do it without cutting dangerously into our own requirements.

It is considered likely that the realities discovered in southern Italy will cause an overhaul of our now largely integrated relief and rehabilitation program. As it is, not only Herbert H. Lehman's OFFICE, but more than half a dozen other agencies have their fingers in the pie, not to mention the combined Food Board and the British Supply Council. Any day now a central United Nations coordinating agency may be set up.

WASHINGTON IN Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Reports from that portion of Italy now in Allied hands are that the United Nations are face to face with the realities of rehabilitation and the picture is not pretty.

It is apparent the Nazis are going to strip the whole of Europe and occupied portions of Asia of everything that is edible or of any use whatever in their war effort.

Not only that, but in Italy they have planted mines all over the farm lands, blown up food processing and fertilizer plants, destroyed transportation, and blasted irrigation works.

HERE is no simple problem like that faced by AMG and the Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation in Tunisia and Sicily. The Nazis had comparatively little opportunity to scorch the earth there.

In Italy, there is the problem of clearing the land of mines, supplying farmers with tools and fertilizer, putting the irrigation works back in order (a job of months and years in some sections), and reconstructing means of transportation before the nation can even put its crops in the ground. These people have to be fed if they are to be kept from starving.

Italy's chief native grain supply is in the Po valley, where the Nazis are sure to make a last ditch stand. Its factories are virtually useless without the million tons or so of coal they have been getting from Germany each year.

When these problems are considered—and they will be equal in great or greater in France, Greece, the Balkans, the Netherlands, Norway, Denmark and Poland—the magnitude of the job becomes apparent.

What It Means

WASHINGTON — The Navy's announcement that we now have the greatest fleet in world history adds the final touch to a picture of complete United Nations' sea superiority.

Aided by the surrender of the Italian fleet and the repair of part of the French fleet, the mighty navies of the U. S. and Britain far exceed in combined strength any force Japan or Germany can hope to bring against them.

Germany, foreseeing the possibility of a blockade 1918-fashion, carefully planned so she would not be dependent on raw materials sources outside Europe. She was not entirely successful, but the blockade of this war is far less crippling than last time.

Raiding Force

Germany's navy was never designed to protect her supply lines, as was Britain's. It is mainly a raiding force, the chief value of which has been the pinning down of a British fleet in the North Sea to meet its constant threat.

Japan, however, has to have a powerful fleet to protect her supply lines, support her island bases and hold on to stolen conquests.

That she is fully aware of the expansion of our fleet (which is expected to have double the number of fighting ships this year over last) is shown by the careful way she has been hoarding her battleships and carriers and by the plans to evacuate Tokyo because of the certainty of U. S. air raids (perhaps based on carriers).

New Carriers

We had 11 aircraft carriers and 15 battleships a-building when we entered the war. The Navy has not revealed how many of these mighty weapons are now in service, but we probably have at least four new carriers, the Essex, Bunker Hill, Yorktown and Lexington, out somewhere giving the Japs fits. Our total carrier force now may number nearly a dozen big ones according to some reports.

Of the big sluggers, six have been added to the fleet, including the South Dakota, Indiana, Massachusetts and Alabama, all bristling with powerful anti-aircraft defenses that can knock off Jap planes like flies.

To add to Japan's naval worries, the surrender of the Italian fleet released immense Allied sea forces in the Mediterranean, and there is little doubt that the bulk of these will be sent at once to India for the approaching seaborne invasion of Burma.

77 Italian Ships

In all, 77 Italian warships fell into our hands, including five battleships, eight cruisers, 29 destroyers, 19 submarines and one seaplane carrier. While there might be some difficulty in getting large quantities of their size ammunition, the naval base at Taranto seized by the British may have sufficient to use the warships for patrol duty.

The small French fleet must not be overlooked in listing the United Nations' naval assets.

Spearheaded by the powerful 35,000-ton battleship Richelieu (newly overhauled in the U. S.), the French fleet on our side has in fighting trim at least one other battleship, one aircraft carrier, nine cruisers, 10 destroyers and a score of subs.

Some 46 French warships came over to the Allies, after the North African invasion, but it will probably be 1944 before a French navy as such can be rebuilt and fully equipped. Undoubtedly one of the jobs being saved for the effective French naval forces is the invasion of France.

Yesterdays again brought summer heat with the mercury mounting to a point above 80 degrees. Dozens of men were to be seen about the town mopping brows much as they did in the hottest days of August.

Twenty-six young women were honored at Vassar College yesterday for having attained above average marks in their studies. Among the group was Miss Louise Condit of Warren.

Cliff Johnson was elected president of the Warren County Truck owners association at a meeting held last evening. The meeting was called to effect an organization and to secure mutual protection and a most even rate of pay for work performed.

Rector From Smethport To Be At Trinity

Services in Trinity Memorial church on Sunday will begin with a celebration of the Holy Communion at eight o'clock, followed by church school at 9:45 and the usual 11 a. m. service with Holy Communion and sermon by Rev. William E. Van Dyke, of Smethport.

Dean Van Dyke was rector of St. Luke's church in Smethport for many years but is now retired and, as dean of the Convocation of Ridgway and president of the standing committee of Diocese of Erie, is still active in the work of the church.

He has preached in Trinity church on several occasions and will be remembered by many. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to attend these services.

Special Program At First Methodist

Sunday is "Promotion Day" in the First Methodist church school and a brief program will be conducted in each department, after which the advanced students will be conducted to the next department. Words of welcome will be extended by the respective departmental superintendents.

At 11 a. m., the congregation will observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This being World Communion Sunday, the church will in this way seek to keep alive the ties of Christian brotherhood in the midst of a world at war. A special offering will be received for war sufferers and overseas relief.

The Youth Fellowship will meet in the Everts room at 6:30 p. m.

Service League To Omit Annual Event

Of interest to hundreds in the community is the decision of Trinity Service League members to omit for this fall the annual turkey dinner because of food scarcity and the rationing program.

This decision was reached during the business session conducted by Mrs. J. W. A. Luce following dinner served in the parish house to about 50 members and guests. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Richard Hansen, Mrs. J. R. Elliott, Mrs. Roy Hertz, Mrs. R. Z. Morrison, Mrs. W. A. Greaves, Mrs. George Frantz, Mrs. Eva Reardon, Mrs. Harriet Wilkins and Mrs. D. E. Conaway.

Plans were made for a card party to be held some time this month at the home of Mrs. Freeman Hertz and members were asked to start making their articles for the Christmas bazaar.

It was decided, also, that Service League members will go to Red Cross headquarters each Wednesday evening from seven until nine o'clock for making surgical dressings.

Help War Prisoners

Sometimes strange coincidences are found in the work of War Prisoners Aid of the Young Men's Christian Association. After one of the War Prisoners Aid staff members had lectured in a West Coast city he received a letter from the mother of a boy in the Army Air Force, who wrote: "My boy is in the Air Force in Australia and, of course, is in little danger of being taken prisoner there. However, your work seemed to be so humane and necessary to me that I just felt I had to send you a contribution. I hope it will help some other mother's boy who is captured by the enemy."

The same day War Prisoners Aid received that letter, the first cable carrying names of Americans captured in North Africa was delivered to its New York offices at 347 Madison Avenue. The first prisoner listed was the son of that woman. He had been transferred from Australia to North Africa! War Prisoners Aid of the Y. M. C. A. stimulates recreational, educational and religious activities in prison camps throughout the world. Its headquarters are in Geneva, Switzerland.

WAR DOG DUTIES
If you've wondered in which branch of the service your enlisted war dog will serve, he'll be trained as a specialist for sentry duty, attack operations, messenger service, silent scouts, casualty relief or as a pack and sledge dog.

Federal court will convene at Erie at 10 a. m. next Tuesday with Judge F. P. Schoonmaker presiding, it was announced today. The grand jury will be sworn in at that time and the criminal trial list will be called.

The cost of fuel to run a destroyer one mile is 50 cents. Destroyers are potent weapons against Axis subs. Keep 'em sailing by buying War Bonds.

TONS OF MAPS NEEDED
Map tonnage is something to be reckoned with during the progress of a battle. The first assault in North Africa called for 110 tons of maps, whereas 400 tons more were added as the campaign progressed.

Pennsylvania industrial activity, with factory payrolls at a new weekly peak of over $50,000,000 and employment of more than 1,350,000 wage-earners, broke all records last month.

"GO AWAY, CUSTOMER!"
The telephone company is now spending more money to discourage business than it normally does to promote it, due to overloading of circuits by war activity calls.

MEN of the Armed Forces! A distinctive military portrait is the "tops" gift for the folks back home. Every Smith portrait is as good as we can make it. They're not expensive either.

County 4-H Club Girls Make Interesting Contributions

4-H club work has never been more important in Warren County than it has been this summer. The contributions of the Warren County 4-H club girls to the war effort, as shown by a summary of each club's accomplishments yields some very interesting figures.

Each member reported at their final club meeting on the progress she has made towards a Victory Service Club. The goal for clothing club girls was to repair and renovate 15 garments. 67 girls completed this goal. The majority of the girls exceeded it. 1545 garments were repaired by 4-H members in Warren County this year.

Other results shown in the service records of these rural girls are as follows:

100 members made an effort to eat the right foods.

$1336.57 was invested in war saving stamps and bonds this summer. This was exclusive of the amount purchased in school.

In salvage collections 1127 pounds of paper were reported, 975 pounds of rubber, 10,255 pounds of metal, 338 pair of stockings, 94 pounds of fat. One girl collected over 3 ton of scrap metal. 81 garments were remodeled and 714 repaired.

50 members have helped repair farm and home equipment. This includes tools, furniture machinery, etc.

94 assisted with their family gardens.

72 assisted with their family poultry flock.

86 assisted with family canning.

2751 1/2 quarts of foods were canned with their assistance.

These girls worked 7251 hours assisting their parents with planting, harvesting, etc.

They spent 2213 hours assisting neighbors. 61 girls aided welfare organizations.

Surely the contribution of these fine rural young people has been a splendid one this summer. In addition they have all benefited, in the skills they have acquired and the directed recreation they have enjoyed.

Warren Dragons Set For Tough Game With Oil City

Loss of Gusty Arrigo Expected To Inspire Locals To Win Third

With Warren's crucial gridiron game against the Oil City Blue and White on tap tomorrow at Russell Field at 2:30, it looks like the dragons have ample excuse to pull a "Gipp" for the first time in 25 years.

There's no doubt but what the entire team will be out to win one for their star quarterback, Gusty Arrigo, who enters the navy on Monday and is playing for the colors of Warren High for the final time tomorrow.

That feeling of "win one for Arrigo" is spreading all through the school today and when they step out on the battleground, Arrigo's final battle for the sport of it, they will never be in the higher spirits that they're carrying with them tomorrow.

Reports out of Oil City Blue and White last week's win over the mighty Bradford Owls, but they have back with them their ace signal caller, who has been out of action since the first game with a wrenched knee.

Warren's line has been considerably strengthened by the string of practice sessions all week in preparation for the tough Oilers and they are expected to carry plenty of load tomorrow with the reputedly hard hitting rival backfield against them.

Tomorrow's "Arrigo Day" and the fans are going to see a brand of gridiron play on Russell Field that will rival anything seen in years with their toughest game to date facing them against the Oil City Oilers.

Ridgway Plays At Sheffield Tomorrow

The Elkers have been working diligently this week in preparation for their meeting with the Wolverines at Sheffield Saturday. Coach Stanford watched his charges against over-confidence and has convinced the Elkers they will meet stiff opposition in the battle with the Wolverines.

Comparative scores show the Elkers superior to their Saturday opponents, but Stanford reminded the squad that a similar condition existed in 1937 and Ridgway returned home on the short end of a 6 to 12 score.

Sheffield, where Stanford got his first taste of the gridiron sport, always was out a little extra against Ridgway and there is no reason to believe this year will be no exception. The Wolverines will be a vastly improved club this Saturday compared to the one that dropped the opener to Jonesburg, 25 to 6, last week.

Canada sends the United States about 64,000 tons of bacon in normal years.

Here is your table of certain results for the week-end.

Digest them carefully, and we hope they agree with you—hew!

Confidentially I have a hunch that the Dragons are going out and win tomorrow's game as a fine send-off for Arrigo.

Saturday Grid Feast Is An Important One

New York, Oct. 1.—(P)—An appetizer of two games tonight will prepare fans for the second Saturday football feast of the season tomorrow, when a well-filled program of major contests will go forward deciding the question of which teams belong in the top brackets.

Swarthmore meets Temple and Kansas invades Denver in tonight's contests, which are but a prelude to such games as Northwestern-Michigan, Notre Dame-Georgia Tech, Texas-Southwestern, Duke-North Carolina Navy and Penn-Yale.

The Northwestern-Michigan bat-

The ace right hander twirled three hitless innings against the Chicago White Sox yesterday in his final tuneup for the fall classic that opens Tuesday. His brief appearance lowered his earned run average for the season to 1.67, the best in the American League since 1919.

The fact that the White Sox landed on Bill Zuber for an 8 to 3 victory after Chandler's departure was important only to the Sox who are putting on a great drive to oust Cleveland from third place. The triumph—No. 11 of the season for Southpaw Edgar Smith—was the Sox's 13th success in 16 starts and put them within one percentage point of the Indians.

KEY:—Select any letter at random. Dot it for identification. Write the letter on sheet of paper. Counting clockwise, write every sixth letter in order across the page, till you complete the circuit. Separate letters into words. A word may be divided at beginning and end of message. If, so connect it. If lucky, you get six winners.

At Ann Arbor and the Georgia Tech-Notre Dame clash at South Bend hold the spotlight from a national standpoint, with both Notre Dame and Michigan, rated around the top in pre-season estimates, meeting late tests for the first time.

Army, safely past Villanova, generally is favored over Colgate at West Point, and the same is true of Navy in its game with Cornell at Baltimore. Yale and Penn meet at Philadelphia and Holy Cross takes on Brown at Worcester in other major eastern battles.

Several important skirmishes are scheduled in the south, with the Duke-North Carolina pre-flight contest at Durham high on the list. North Carolina is host to Penn State and Virginia invades West Virginia in other games.

Outstanding Grid Clash At South Bend

BY BUCKY O'CONNOR

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 31.—(P)—Being a man of considerable fortitude Coach Frank Leahy isn't exactly afraid of Georgia Tech, but being also a man of logic and realism, he probably is apprehensive concerning the outcome of the Irish-Tech clash here Saturday.

For the Irish, though fresh from an easy 41 to 0 victory over Pittsburger in their opener last week, encounter a Tech team stronger than the one that upset them a year ago. But Leahy's lads are bearing down these days. They're out to wreck the Ramblin' Wreck and avenge last season's defeat.

More than 25,000 fans are expected to witness the game between two of the most powerful elevens in their respective regions. The encounter is rated as Saturday's outstanding intersectional battle.

Notre Dame has trounced the Southerners 11 of the 13 times they have met, Tech winning twice. Prior to last year the "Georgians" only victory of the series was in 1928 when they went on to beat California in the Rose Bowl.

Seven veterans of Tech's 13 to 6 upset of Notre Dame last year are with the squad this season.

East Hickory Pilot Killed In Air Crash

First Lieutenant Jack R. Black, 24, bomber pilot and only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Black of East Hickory, was killed in a plane crash during maneuvers in Oregon, according to a message received by his family at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The message contained no details.

In addition to his parents, Lieut. Black leaves his wife, the former Virginia M. Wright, daughter of Mrs. Hilda Wright of East Hickory; a sister, Merle Wright of Buffalo.

The lieutenant, who would have been 25 in November, entered the service on March 26, 1941, and was graduated October 9, 1942, from the advanced flying school for bomber pilots at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas, receiving his wings and second lieutenant's commission. He was promoted to first lieutenant in July, 1943.

No funeral arrangements have been made, but the body will be brought East.

A possible starter by shutting out the New York Giants, 1 to 0, on six hits in a night game at St. Louis. Rookie Bill Voiselle of the Giants yielded only five hits, but in the eighth when Lou Klein singled Harry Walker home from second base.

The Brooklyn Dodgers tightened their hold on third place in the National League by capitalizing on a shaky start by Elmer Riddle to beat Cincinnati, 3 to 2, and end the Reds' 10-game winning streak. A third inning three-bagger by Billy Herman provided the one-run margin that Kirby Higbe held to the end of his 13th victory. Riddle, trying for his 22nd victory, yielded only one hit in the last six innings, but the damage had been done.

Rookie Andy Pafko, selected as the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast League where he played with Los Angeles, sparked the Chicago Cubs to an uphill 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Braves in 12 innings. The Cubs won the 12th on Pafko's fourth hit of the game. Nate Andrews, who went the route for the Braves, suffered his 20th defeat.

Luckless Luman Harris of the Philadelphia Athletics lost his 21st game of the season as Detroit blanked the A's, 6 to 0. Joe Hoover blasted a three-run homer to back up four hit pitching by Frank Overmire and Hal White. Overmire retired in the sixth after being hit in the leg by a line drive.

A scheduled doubleheader between the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns was cancelled because of the weather. The Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates had an open date.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

MUCH later, Jane heard foot-steps on the stairs and knew that Uncle Ed had not been in his room during his wife's broken sobbing. She heard him pass her door and go into her own room. Then came the opening and closing of another door.

An odd time for so much to be going on. Jane clicked on the bedside lamp. Three o'clock. And Uncle Ed . . . Maybe he is playing around, she thought. Maybe that's why Aunt Ella cried. She tried to make herself believe it but something didn't click. Some part of the pattern refused to fall into place.

I'm too nervous to sleep . . . Maybe if I had an aspirin . . .

She pulled on her robe and hurried down the hall to the bathroom, her bare feet padding silently over the carpet. She took two aspirin tablets.

"I don't care, Ed. I hate it," Ella Black's voice came clearly to the girl in the bathroom next door.

"Don't be foolish," Uncle Ed sounded angry. "There's nothing you can do. Just let me do as I see fit."

There was more, but Jane fled to the seclusion of her own room. Aunt Ella and Uncle Ed were quarreling—and they had never done that before, to her knowledge. Always they had seemed the perfectly matched couple. Jane turned out her light and lay staring into the darkness.

It must be true about Uncle Ed and the blonde woman. Jane wondered who she was. What had Brad said? "Ed sure can pick 'em" or something of the sort. A typical masculine wisecrack.

She yawned, sleep finally fighting its way through the jumble that filled her mind. Was she falling in love with Brad Forrester? She hadn't thought she would—ever again. Not after Joe Masters and the pain that came when she learned of his death. "Killed in action," the telegram had said. Later word came that he had been cited for gallantry, but that was small comfort to her. Java was so far away . . .

BRAD FORRESTER tossed and tumbled. His bed, usually so sleep-inviting, seemed filled with too high or too low. Finally he gave up and sprawled in his favorite chair for a smoke.

Small wonder I'm restless, he groused. All hell ready to pop—and me powerless to stop it!

I don't even know who's ram-rod-ding it, he thought, flinging the cigarette into an ash-tray. Half angry at himself, he lit another cigarette, inhaling nervously.

It was almost three o'clock when there was a rap at his door. He stiffened. This is one of those things you hear about, he thought, wondering for a split second if his number was up. Many such incidents were recorded in the annals of the service. An agent knowing a little too much . . . Only he didn't. Not nearly enough.

He slipped his gun into the dressing gown pocket and held it ready. One flick of the wrist and the door was open.

A freckled-faced stranger stood smiling. "Johnny Reynolds," the newcomer introduced himself. "Vic sent his regards."

"Fine. Glad you're here, Reynolds. Come in and sit down."

Brad gave him a quick review of the case. Johnny Reynolds rocked his suitcase back and forth. Finally, when Brad was finished, he said:

"I have a camera here," He indicated the suitcase. "How about a picture of that letter. Just in case," he added significantly.

Brad watched him make the necessary arrangements, fusing with the lights until they struck the sheet just so. Finally it was done and Brad returned the letter to the money belt where he kept his credentials.

"They get these over my dead body," he said, grinning.

"That's been done, too, fella," Reynolds made a wry face. "Don't make statements like that in broad daylight. Somebody might take you up on it."

"Yeah," Brad lapsed into silence. Strange, he thought, me thinking of Jane now.

THE silence was short, however. Too much remained to be done for any time to be wasted. They talked for a long time, their voices blending into the night noises, so low they could not possibly be overheard.

"Tell you what," Brad said finally. "There's quite a foreign settlement in Emerson. Suppose you hang around there for a few days. It may be a waste of time but, frankly, Johnny, I'm grasping at straws. This thing is sewed up so damned tight it's not funny."

Reynolds nodded. He respected Brad Forrester for his past record. Although they had not worked together, he realized that if Brad said a case was tough, it was. "Any ideas?" he asked.

"Nothing tangible, Chester Billingsley had something. I'm sure but they got him first." He already had told of Jane finding the letter, and thinking Billingsley was a spy.

"He called Jane—Miss Carter," he amended so swiftly that the other man grinned. "The killer must have come in then, for the phone went dead. Jane called me. We found him in the office. You know the rest."

Brad was tired. "Chet was a grand guy, Johnny," he mused, lighting a cigarette. "Have one?" He extended the pack to Reynolds. "He didn't have to be in this. He could have said six and bowed out anytime he wanted to. Oh, no, not Chester Billingsley. He had too much of what it takes."

WHEN he lapsed into silence again, Reynolds made no move to speak. There was nothing for him to say. This man had lost a friend and what he said tonight was a tribute to that friend. So Johnny Reynolds, busy with his own thoughts, watched the smoke float in lazy rings toward the ceiling and said nothing.

Brad didn't know how long he sat there, mulling over what had happened, but his new assistant was dozing in his chair. A smile was playing about his lips, giving him a very youthful appearance. Lord, what kids they send out Brad thought. But a very efficient kid, he was sure. There was something about the squarish jaw that told him that.

His legs were stiff from sitting in one position too long. He stretched, nudging Johnny with the toe of his slipper.

"Wake up, kid. It's time for you to move on."

The young man grinned sheepishly. "Guess I went to sleep," he said.

"Guess so," Brad averred. "We shouldn't be seen together, so you'd best be shoving off."

Reynolds nodded. He shrugged into his overcoat.

"Be seen' you," he said and Brad, holding the door open for him, nodded.

At least Jane's safe. Brad thought, watching the kid until he disappeared down the stairway. Knowing that meant a lot.
